From Boston came a report that a smb had been intercepted in the central post office there. This infernal machine was said to have been discovered by clerk engaged in sorting mail. The wrapper had been lost, according to the re ing if the bomb belonged to the lo mailed here and bearing the fraudulent "Gimbel Brothers' label. The Post Office believe that it represented an individual listance of projected crime, wide apart in the said they were attempting to force an reignty.

The point was made also that from time to time reports are business to come in of the interception or super-sove reignty.

Shalles of the world, or super-sove reignty.

News was received from Chicago that the bomb addressed to Federal Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, one of the twenty-five mailed in this city between April 22 and April 28, had been exploded by the police through the simple expedient of driving a revolver buile nto it. It let go with a bang and the fragments proved its common origin with the bombs designed for members of the Cabinet, United States Senators, Justic Holmes of the United States Supreme Court, Mr. Rockefeller and Mr. Morgan and others hateful to Anarchists Judge Landis, it appears, had been sceptical of the nature of the parcel addressed dm. but doubts disappeared when the police reported to him yesterday.

It was reported from Washington that the Government, through Postmaster-General Burleton, may offer a large reward for information leading to the ar rest and conviction of the bomb plotters It is known that Mr. Burleson has been advised to that purpose by officials in this city, who believe that the best chance of identifying the plotters is through rewarding the treachery of some fatively suggested as a reward is $5,000. It was said also that a resolution may be introduced in the Board of Aldermen here calling for a reward by the city for similar evidence, possibly of $2,000.

LABOR IN EUROPE FROWNS ON LEAGUE REENLISTS IN ARMY

William Walling, Back From Tour, Says Workers Call It Capitalistic Device.

Brooklyn Meeting Told Wilson Has Lost His Hold Upon Industrial Classes.

President Wilson has lost his hold upon the working classes of Europe, according to William English Walling, re-Commander William Glassford, her cently returned from an investigation of commanding officer, ordered full speed working class conditions there, who plot to murder by mail, suggested the course as to bring her under the bow dentity of the bomb makers and mailers has been discovered out of town but.

Mr. Walling went through all of the tries, and paid special attention to labor conditions in the war zone.

"Socialism, as the creed is preached in Europe to-day," he said, "is a social democracy, using our present democratic He then proceeded to outline the status of the Socialists in each of the European nations, describing their powerful influence, despite the fact that In no country are they in the majority. Freuch labor and labor leaders, he said, seem to align themselves accurately with the doctrines of the Bolsheviki. though they do not say so explicitly and openly. The British labor leaders coming to the end of its rope in Russia and so will cease to be a menace to the world. He said that while President Wilson has the cooperation of the other great Allies in his new designs for the world, Italy has frankly withdrawn from the programme. The Cenfederation Generale de Travail, governing body in French labor, he said, washed its hands Walter Butler, 17, and Anthony Lavia. French labor, he said, washed its hands 15, who told the police they were trying of American democracy. They are fight-

Craft has been in the service for number of years. He went to the Mex-ican border as a member of the Eleventh Cavalry of the Regular Army. On April , 1917, he sailed from this country for France with the Fifth and Sixth United States Marine Corps and landed in Brest on April 23, 1917. He spent twenty-one menths on the western front. At Chateau Thierry he was shot in the head while he was acting as a machine gun expert and was sent to the American Red Cross Hospital in Paris, where he met Miss Louise Royer, who was assigned as his nurse. The young woman is a native of Trelaze. Some years ago Miss Royer's family came to America and she lived in this country for seven years, returning to Paris to join the American Red Cross base hospital staff for nurses. The friendship between these two young people soon ripened into love, and when Craft was mustered out of the service he immediately recalisted at Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis, as an overseas recruit. It was upon his arrival here that he made known his reason for his reenlistment. He will be sent to France in a few weeks with other members of his battalion.

Craft was decorated with the Crotx de Guerre for capturing nine machine gun nests in the French sector of the Belleau Wood. He also served at the River Meuse and on the Verdun and Champagne fronts. He was in the Argoine front preparing to go over the top when the armistice was signed.

With Our Deepest Respect

Remember the day the 77th paraded just before if went across?

The men faced a blizzard all the way down the Avenue. Tiny snowdrifts formed on eyebrows and mustaches. Faces were whipped to a ruddy glow. And they marched in slush and water. It was Washington's Birthday, 1918.

We on the side-lines cheered and shouted and cried. Proud of them? Well, we were willing to back those boys to the limit against any soldiers in the world. They were better than the best that ever came out of Germany and we knew it.

Today they are back again. And they handled their job just the way they promised to. They showed the world how New York City goes to war.

Well fought! Well won! And a welcome home No finer record than that of the 77th has been made in any of the five wars, during the past 112 years, from which Cowperthwait & Sons have welcomed victorious New York soldiers home again.

In their honor we close our store all day on Tues-
